

IT GAVE HIM A GREAT SURPRISE

Jones Had No Idea Any Medicine Could Do For Him What Tanlac Did.

"Well, sir, the way Tanlac has overcome my troubles and built me up is wonderful," said H. P. Jones, a well known ship fitter in the employ of the United States government, who lives at 752 East Thirty-ninth street, Los Angeles, Cal., the other day.

"The truth of the matter is," continued Mr. Jones, "I took Tanlac as a last resort, for I had no idea any medicine or treatment would do me any good. I had a general breakdown in health last December, and I have been in a night bad shape ever since. My stomach went back on me, and everything I ate disagreed with me and I would suffer for hours after meals on account of being all bloated up with gas. I would have the worst sort of cramping pains in the pit of my stomach. My nerves were in such a awful condition that I would often go for seventy-two hours without a wink of sleep. In fact, I was almost a nervous wreck. I just kept on getting worse all the time, and I finally gave up all hope of ever being well again."

"That was the condition I was in when I heard about Tanlac, and while I had no idea that it would do me any good, I used it. I would make one more effort any way. Well, sir, you can well imagine my surprise when I commenced to feel better. I just braced up and took a new lease on life, and stuck to Tanlac until I am now a well, robust man again. I have gained eleven pounds already. My nerves have quieted down, and I sleep like a school boy every night. I am getting ready to go back to work again, and that is something I never expected to be able to do again. My appetite is fine, and I can eat just anything I want without suffering afterwards. All my friends and neighbors are as much surprised at my wonderful improvement as I am, and I spend most of my time now, passing the good word along to others who suffer as I did. Tanlac is a blessing to the world, and as long as I live I will praise it for the good it has done me."

RED CROSS DRIVE IS TO START DURING THE WEEK

With daily talks through the newspapers, prizes offered for the best speeches as prepared by those listed for theatre work, and something like eighty competitors for the said prizes, the biggest speaking campaign ever staged in Ogden will begin next Wednesday evening, and last until the evening of Sunday, November 9th, and so far as possible do its part in getting Ogden's quota of eighteen thousand Red Cross members.

Work in preparing this list of speakers is far from complete, but a tentative schedule has been announced, and is printed below. It contemplates the taking over of the various evenings during the drive by different organizations, most of them of a nature connected directly with war work. Women will have charge of several evenings, union labor has its night, the returned members of the various services have four evenings, representatives of war work organizations speak on one evening, and the Four Minute men and women of that organization make another bow in public.

General charge of the speaking campaign has been placed by the Red Cross campaign committee in Stuart P. Dobbs, Jack Littlefield and Mrs. Gertrude S. Hutton, the latter looking after the women's work. Mr. Littlefield taking charge of the service men's nights, while Mr. Dobbs is acting as chairman, and in charge of the whole situation generally. In addition to these, sub-chairmen have been named, including Darlin N. Wheeler, who has charge of Union Labor night.

The interesting aspect of the speaking campaign is the number of viewpoints which it will present to the public. Soldiers, sailors, marines, commissioned officers, non-commissioned officers, medical officers and plain buck privates; Red Cross nurses and canteen workers, representatives of union labor, of the council of defense, of the draft boards, of the American Legion, of the Women of American Patriots—almost every phase of activity at home and abroad, in city, cantonment, trench and hospital, will be represented. The committee in charge promises that Ogden will receive a thorough education in the purposes of the Red Cross and the scope of its work.
